

No, there is no need to stand at the front door with your nose pressed against the glass or set your alarm for the stroke of midnight. *wink* You can if you would like, but we need our beauty sleep and so we will be arriving during daylight hours :-D

Lessons are posted daily or weekly (depending on the class structure) and there is no scheduled "meeting" time. You can come and go as you please, at any time, for any class you are registered in.
